

Some things are hard to say . . .

1,175,200

people nationwide have a communication disability

951,912

use assistive aids or technology

413,670

have significant communication disability

. . . they are even harder if you have a communication disability.

Communication barriers can exist for people with

Autism

Acquired brain injury

Hearing disability

Speech disability

Intellectual disability

Language developmental challenges

Injuries

Neurological conditions

Break down the barriers by becoming an active listener.

